Holiday Inn Express at Orlando Airport Converts to HotAir Internet Solution

Reliable HotAir system resolves frustrating Internet issues.

ORLANDO , FL - January 2005 -- HotAir Network Group is pleased to announce that Holiday Inn Express, Orlando Airport , has successfully converted to the HotAir Internet Solution. The property switched to HotAir from a system that was frustrating hotel guests and ultimately impacting occupancy. Located near Orlando International Airport with convenient access to any part of Orlando , the hotel serves the business traveler and is a well-situated location for off-site meetings. The hotel was recently renovated and offers a sophisticated atmosphere that facilitates travel for business professionals as well as vacationers.

"We are pleased to get the opportunity to work with Holiday Inn Express, Orlando Airport . We are finding that more and more hotels are struggling with their current guest Internet solution providers. This is another example of HotAir's commitment to quickly and efficiently help properties get on track, solve brand standards, and resolve guest frustration," said Sam Trierer, CTO of HotAir Network Group.

"It is such a relief to have HotAir providing our guest Internet solution. The previous vendor, and the solution they offered, couldn't meet the demands of our guests. We constantly had to offer compensation for the poor service. HotAir was up and operational within two weeks of signing the contract and our guest Internet issues have disappeared," stated Tim Tonkovich, General Manager of Holiday Inn Express, Orlando Airport
