HotAir Takes Over Guest Internet Services at Holiday Inn Express, Lake Buena Vista

Renovated hotel chooses HotAir based on performance and reputation at sister property.

LAKE BUENA VISTA, FL - November 2005 -- HotAir Network Group is pleased to announce that Holiday Inn Express, Lake Buena Vista, is the latest conversion to the HotAir Guest Internet Solution. The facility has undergone extensive renovations and recently converted to the Holiday Inn brand. The hotel is part of the Disney World Lake Buena Vista Resort area and provides services to both vacationers and convention/meeting groups.

"We urged our ownership group to select HotAir based on their performance and reputation at one of our sister properties. Every General Manager I spoke with delivered the same message: selecting anyone other than HotAir wouldn't make any sense. HotAir finished the installation and we were operational within two weeks! I can't imagine making any other decision," stated Bob Frobish, General Manager of Holiday Inn Express, Lake Buena Vista.

"Holiday Inn Express was losing customers because of the previously installed solution. We have a lot of experience in turning a facility around. It's a great feeling to have such an impact on a hotel. We look forward to continuing to expand our solution throughout the ownership group," said Steve Gould, President of HotAir Network Group.
